Given the increasing incidence of unpredictable disasters (Natural, Occupational and information security disasters), a disruption may follow leading to undesired events for many organizations. This has led to the desire of many organizations to aim for obtaining a certification in ISO 22301 to show commitment towards business continuity and ensure that disruptive incidents are detected and properly addressed, thus the management system is continually improved and sustained.

By becoming a PECB certified auditor, you will achieve a formal and independent recognition of your personal competences, and you qualify yourself to conduct BCMS audits for a certification body.

Recognizing the importance of an effective audit and the means used to successfully conduct it, PECB has designed the ISO 22301 Lead Auditor training course. Attending this training course allows you to obtain the knowledge and skills to plan and carry out audits in compliance with ISO 19011 and the certification process according to ISO/IEC 17021-1.

Through interactive sessions, explanatory information, exercises, and questions for discussion, you will be able to acquire knowledge on the business continuity management system as well as audit techniques and become competent to perform a BCMS audit by applying widely recognized audit principles, procedures, and techniques, and to manage an audit program and an audit team.
